LAST OF THE LAP DANCES

Council pledge to use its new powers to ban any strip clubs near schools and homes

By Lucy Purdy

A BOROUGH-WIDE ban on lap-dancing clubs has been proposed by Haringey Council after it was given new powers to curb their proliferation.

Councillors have revealed that they want to ban lap-dancing and pole-dancing clubs from Haringey following a change in legislation announced by the Home Office last year.

The council is developing a policy covering the licensing and regulation of sex entertainment venues, which includes sex shops and sex cinemas. Although local authorities are not allowed to take a moral stance against such establishments, it may refuse a licence if they are deemed to be too near sensitive areas such as schools or houses.

Councillor Nilgun Canver, cabinet member for neighbourhoods, said: "This new legislation allows us to stop lap-dancing and pole-dancing clubs from setting up in sensitive areas where they will cause concern.

This new legislation allows us to stop lap-dancing clubs from setting up.

"This would apply to every ward and is central to our policy. We are asking for comments from residents, to see if they support this stance."

A 12-week public consultation on the draft policy is already under way and will come to an end on December 15. The policy will come into effect in January 2011.

After Spurs got the go-ahead to build a new stadium, our new series examines the impact of the decision on the area

'Things can only get better when it comes'

By Lucy Purdy

TOTTENHAM can "only get better" with the dawn of its new stadium, according to an estate agent based in High Road.

Josh Kravitz, of Winkworth Estate Agents, believes attracting new businesses to the area is crucial in making north Tottenham a vibrant and attractive place to live.

He told the Advertiser: "I think we have to encourage more recognisable, more reputable businesses to Tottenham, which will attract people in turn."

"A lot of our clients at the moment shop out of Tottenham – they say there is nothing in the area which meets their needs. I think the new stadium is a really positive thing – it's going to look fantastic and it will really brighten up that area of White Hart Lane."

"But it will also come down to the right businesses, the right shops, pubs and restaurants coming to the area."

Mr Kravitz said many first-time buyers who take the plunge in Tottenham have previously rented in areas such as Crouch End, Muswell Hill and Stoke Newington.

"They rent in those areas and then set up home in the Tottenham area where prices are much more affordable. We recently sold a double-fronted Victorian house in Bedford Road for £585,000 last year. The same house in Muswell Hill or Crouch End – just three miles away – would definitely cost over £1million.

"But Tottenham has a very young community, a very cosmopolitan community. I believe things can only get better here when the stadium comes – and I'm an Arsenal supporter!"

Jail for man caught with a shotgun

A MAN from Palmers Green has been jailed for six years for carrying a loaded shotgun among crowds of Christmas shoppers in Wood Green.

Joshua Munnings, a 22-year-old unemployed man from Godolphin Close, was sentenced at Harrow Crown Court last week for carrying the gun on November 17 last year.

Officers patrolling Lymington Avenue saw Munnings, who was holding a carrier bag, abruptly change direction upon seeing them. As the officers gave chase, he threw the bag into a fast-food restaurant before being eventually caught in Pelham Road.

When police retrieved the bag, they found the gun. Forensic analysis revealed his fingerprints to be all over the bag.

Investigating officer Detective Constable Ben Jefferd, of Tottenham Crime Squad, said: "Munnings was carrying a loaded firearm during the day in the middle of Wood Green shopping area in the busy run-up to Christmas."

"Officers intended to stop and search him when he made off. His deadly firearm has been removed from our streets and Munnings now faces a considerable term in jail."

Blackwall Tunnel Closure

As part of our ongoing Blackwall Tunnel Northbound improvement programme, and in addition to the night time closures, we need to close the Northbound Tunnel from 21:00 on Friday through to 05:00 on Monday over the following weekend:

15–18 October

During this closure, Northbound traffic will be diverted through the Southbound Tunnel. Southbound traffic will need to use alternative river crossings, such as the Rotherhithe Tunnel, Dartford Crossing or the Woolwich Ferry.

Our contractors will be working 24 hours a day to ensure works are completed as quickly as possible, keeping such closures and associated disruption to a minimum.

Duty: PC Claire Bloomfield lays a floral tribute to PC Blakelock, right, killed during the riots 25 years ago

Guard of honour for PC Keith Blakelock

POLICE officers gathered to honour PC Keith Blakelock last week – 25 years on from his brutal murder.

The dedicated officer and father-of-three was killed during the Broadwater Farm riots in Tottenham on October 6, 1985. Met Commissioner Sir Paul Stephenson joined TV presenter Michael Winner, MPs and members of the community in remembering PC Blakelock at a memorial service in Muswell Hill on Wednesday.

The commissioner said: "PC Keith Blakelock was murdered in shocking circumstances after trying to protect the fire-brigade so that they could put out a fire that was threatening the lives of residents on the Broadwater Farm Estate.

"It is my honour to pay tribute to a dedicated officer who paid the ultimate price for carrying out the job he loved. I hope that this 25th anniversary proves the opportunity for those who have information on his killing to have the confidence to come forward and help bring justice for his family and those who knew him."

As part of the service, and in keeping with borough tradition, Haringey's youngest serving probationer, 24-year-old PC Claire Bloomfield, laid a floral tribute at the memorial stone.

Haringey's Borough Commander, chief superintendent Dave Grant, said: "I worked with Keith and remember him as a hard-working and dedicated officer. He joined my response team in 1981, when I was still a PC, and we worked together for two years. Keith was ideal in the role and it's very telling that after all these years the community still stand by local officers to remember Keith and honour the work he did."

The reinvestigation into the murder of PC Blakelock, and attempted murder of his colleague, PC Coombes, was announced following a lengthy review in December 2003. As a result of people coming forward with information, ten suspects have been arrested during 2010.

Park View's pupils joined Camilla on a tour of India

CHILDREN in Haringey spoke to the Duchess of Cornwall live from India as part of a video link-up from their classroom.

Camilla spent 15 minutes chatting to students at Park View Academy, in Langham Road, via online communication tool Skype. She is in India with Prince Charles after opening the Commonwealth Games at the Jawaharlal Nehru Stadium. Camilla sat in front of a laptop and donned a big pair of headphones before waving to the children who were watching events unfold.

The school is twinned with St Stephen's School in Chandigarh, in the heart of the Punjab, and has already taken part in a teacher exchange.

Olive Bastien, head of ICT and business at the school, said: "The students couldn't believe it. She gave them a big wave and was very friendly. It was very nice of her to do it."

Football, computers and culture were among the topics of conversation before the Duchess was whisked off to another engagement. The dozen students who took part were selected for their sporting prowess as well as being on ICT and business courses.

Out on the road with the drivers who feed the borough's neediest – with a side order of company too

By Lucy Purdy

‘YOU keep bringing me that awful Scotch pie,” accuses a white-haired, 98-year-old lady when her lunch is delivered to her door in Tottenham on Wednesday afternoon. “I hate that stuff – I’ve never liked it!” she clarifies with a pointed finger before looking down at her ham and coleslaw salad and grumbling: “In my day lettuce used to be green. It always has mauve tops on it now.”

While delivery driver Lee Bringas smiles cheerfully and promises to bring her a new menu tomorrow, she turns to give me a wink and a flash of a brilliant smile which makes me think she looks forward to the daily routine of giving him an earful almost as much as she enjoys her lunch – despite her complaining.

Some of Lee’s regulars moan, others smile and most like to have a chat – but it is clear that each of them appreciates his daily visit.

The Meals On Wheels service in Haringey feeds more than 200 people across the borough each week, offering subsidised two-course meals at a cost of £3.20 which are delivered piping hot to residents’ doors seven days of the week, 365 days a year.

A dedicated team of drivers from the company Sodexo, many of whom have worked for the service for decades, ventures out in all weathers including Christmas Day to rush up and down streets, climb endless flights of stairs, negotiate traffic and avoid parking wardens in their bid to feed the hungry of Haringey. “Even in the heavy snow we only had two meals which weren’t delivered. And that is because they rang up to say we shouldn’t come because their roads were so bad,” explained Era Varellas, Meals On Wheels manager at Haringey Council.

“But we tried to get food to everyone because we know that if we can’t drive up that hill, they can’t get down it either. The drivers are unsung heroes to me.”

Busy packing up meals for one of eight different Haringey delivery rounds at the depot in nearby Enfield, Lee, a father-of-three from Wood Green, explained that he has held the job for ten years.

“I start deliveries at 11.30am and I

Caribbean, Asian, Cypriot and kosher menus as well as dishes for those with special dietary requirements.

ANYONE living in Haringey can apply for Meals On Wheels but they have to meet certain eligibility criteria, designed to ensure the most needy are helped. Among the people Lee regularly sees is an elderly couple, both of whom are completely blind, and another man living on Broadwater Farm who cannot walk at all. His meal is delivered, by arrangement, through a window next to the seat where he spends most of his day.

“Seeing some of the people living on their own used to affect me more, when I first started,” Lee admitted.

“I feel for them, especially at Christmas. Some have families living close by but who don’t go and visit them – even at Christmas. That sometimes makes me angry.”

When I asked Lee what he believed people ate during the rest of the day – the meals are designed to fulfil a third of their daily nutritional needs – he said: “Obviously I’m not in their homes with them and I don’t know what they eat during the rest of the time.

“But yes, I think for some of them at least, this could be the only meal they have all day.”

Broadwater Farm resident, 74-year-old Jean Gallagher has been receiving Meals On Wheels for five years. She has difficulty walking and said the service is a lifeline for her.

“It is very important to me because there is no way I could do the cooking,” she explained.

“I would be burning myself and dropping everything – I just couldn’t do it. I do enjoy the meals too.”

I sample one of the spare meals, a chicken casserole with creamed potato and a vegetable medley.

“It isn’t gourmet but it is piping hot and tastes pretty good. Some of the dishes smell really tempting.

“I’m not exaggerating when I say that sometimes the driver is the only person these residents will see all week,” explained Era with a sad shake of her head.

“When I first started with Haringey, I couldn’t believe there were 600 people who requested a meal on Christmas Day. We’re talking about 600 people who did not have anyone to cook them a meal on Christmas Day – it broke my heart. I ended up making 600 Greek cookies in my own kitchen and took them round to everyone. These are elderly, needy people.

“That is why this is such an important service.”

This week is National Community Meals Week. Visit www.haringey.gov.uk to find out more about Meals On Wheels.

Gunman on a mission to kill in Tottenham street

A MAN who sprayed a rival’s car with bullets from a sub-machine gun in Tottenham has been convicted of attempted murder.

Yusuf Arslan, a 20-year-old decorator from Oxford Close, Edmonton, was found guilty at Kingston Crown Court last week of two counts of attempted murder as well as counts of possessing a gun and ammunition with intent.

Two men were driving along Lansdowne Road when their path was blocked by a silver Vauxhall Corsa.

Arslan got out of the passenger seat, walked up to the victim’s car and opened fire on the pair – one of whom was hit in the arm – before fleeing the scene. The weapon, an Agram sub-machine gun, was later recovered.

Detective Inspector Mick Millar, of Operation Trident, described Arslan as a “dangerous individual” who “thought nothing of opening fire” in the street.

While on bail in connection with the attempted murder, Arslan and another man were stopped in Ferry Lane, near Tottenham Hale, and found to have a gun. Arslan and Emre Kamalak, a 24-year-old unemployed man from Chesthunte Road, Tottenham, were charged with possession of a gun and ammunition. Kamalak had previously pleaded guilty to both offences.

The two had been seen leaving a massage parlour and getting into a taxi before they were stopped. Kamalak was then seen throwing a bag from the car window containing a loaded Brocock Snubnose revolver.

Artist pushed out of his studio base after ten years

A DESIGNER and artist from Wood Green fears he will be left on the streets with no means to earn a living after Haringey Council told him to leave his studio of ten years.

Finn Stone, the brainchild behind the iconic ball chair, uses the buildings in Station Road as a base for his art, design and sculpture work and to teach students from colleges including Central St Martins, Middlesex University and the Royal College of Art.

But he has now received an eviction summons to attend court in January as well as a bill for the council's costs so far, totalling £1,234.

The 39-year-old, who lives with his partner and baby daughter in Park Ridings, told the Advertiser: "I feel like I'm being thrown out on to the street. It feels very unfair. Someone from the council came to see me in October 2009 and said they needed the space back. They said they needed it to store building supplies or to use as a car park. They said they would try to find me an alternative and would let me know.

"Then all of a sudden, I got this summons to attend a court hearing. The irony is that I was recently commissioned to make a sculpture for Haringey Council in Fairland Park and the council has also asked me to get involved in other projects.

"I think someone has made mistakes here and they are covering their back. I can't work with this pressure. I feel like I'm going to crack up."

A council spokeswoman said: "Mr Stone is fully aware of the situation, including the fact that his fixed-term tenancy ran out on June 30 2009 and the council would require the land. He was allowed to stay on site until the council needed vacant possession.

"He has also been offered support to find alternative business accommodation."

Apple Day is top pick for a second year

CROUCH END'S second annual apple day will take place on Saturday, featuring freshly pressed juice and more than ten different varieties of English apple.

Crafts, poetry, cookery demonstrations and a slideshow about the origin of the apple will also be on the menu at Hornsey Vale Community Centre in Mayfield Road. Last year's apple day attracted more than 200 visitors who relished the opportunity to celebrate English apples and ancient traditions.

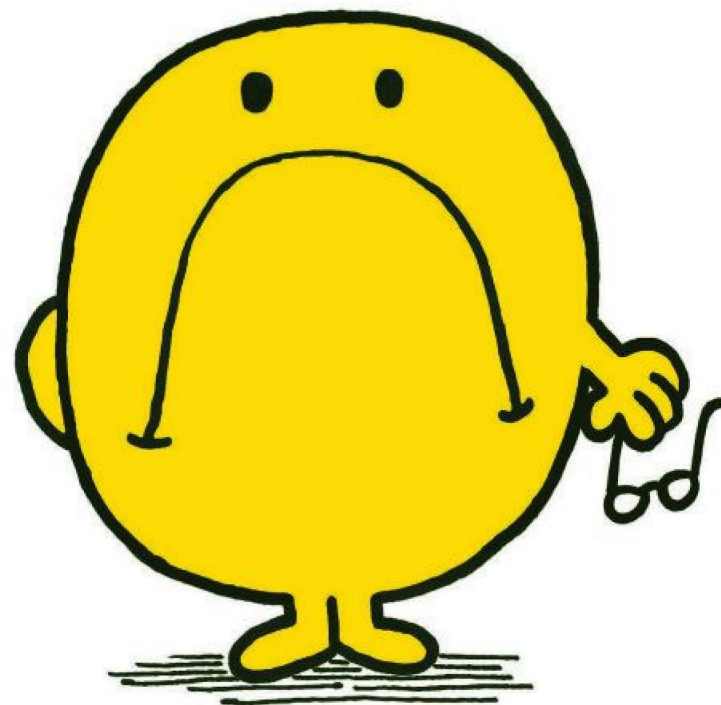

Gillian Livingstone, from Transition Crouch End, urged people to attend. She said: "People come away with an important message about sourcing local food in an age when rising oil costs are likely to affect food supply and prices."

A group called Urban Harvest was established by a group of residents who met at last year's apple day to encourage residents to pick and distribute surplus fruit.

Group founder Gemma Harris said: "The aim is to promote sustainability and community cohesion by re-engaging people with the enjoyment of local, seasonal food. We want to encourage people to help each other pick and distribute surplus garden fruit, relearn traditions of gathering wild food, such as nettles and blackberries, and hold seasonal community celebrations."

Transition Crouch End has been in existence for nearly two years and has promoted sustainable living through community events, film screenings and working with other local green initiatives. This year it is developing growing spaces at Hornsey Vale Community Centre and Stroud Green library as part of the Capital Growth scheme.

Colourful life of a man on a mission

PERHAPS if you're a Londoner in your eighties you might have heard of the eccentric Rector Of Stiffkey who enjoyed a life straight from the pages of lurid, pulp fiction.

But most of us will be clueless about the controversial man of the cloth who "saved" hundreds of prostitutes in the 1920s and '30s, was tried for immorality in a sensational case, was defrocked, went into music hall and was ultimately mauled to death by a lion!

So thank the lord for maverick theatre company Penny Dreadful which brings its vivacious adaptation of Harold Davidson's exotic life to the stage this week. Here's director Mick Barnfather to tell us more...

"Harold was supposed to be a parish priest in the village of Stiffkey in Norfolk but he would spend one day a week there and pretty much the other six days in Soho trying to reform young girls because he felt this was his mission," he said. "He was a very eccentric character and a bit barking mad."

With some in the church taking a dislike to the Rector's lifestyle and eccentricities, Harold was accused – on what does sound like a trumped-up charge – of immorality, resulting in an ecclesiastical trial which was turned into a scandal by the media.

"Out of the hundreds of prostitutes he said he tried to help only one spoke out against him and said he molested her," said Mick. "If this was a real court case it would have been thrown out because it was just one person's word against another, but because this was a church case I think once the church made the decision they would have lost faith if they had found him not guilty. To tell you the truth it's a bit like the

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.

2. 'Classified' Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.

To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', '(T)' etc. in the advertisement.

3. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:

- (a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;
- (b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or
- (c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.

4. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.

5. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.

6. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.

7. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.

8. All gross advertising rates (except classified lineage and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.

9. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.

10. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.

11. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.

12. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.

13. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.

(1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.

(2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should Legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.

14. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.

15. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.

16. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.

17. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.

18. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

Box Numbers

Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods, cash, cash stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A box Number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address. food

Nachos made in heaven and cocktails to top it off

La Mexicana, 57 Church Street, Enfield O20 8363 0072

ENFIELD'S funkiest restaurant deserves to be packed out for every lunch and dinner.

For a start, it's an independent and – in these times of economic hardship – we should be supporting anyone bold enough to open their doors to people to spend their meagre disposable income – the one proviso being the food has to be good.

Secondly, it is good.

Thirdly, you are welcomed so warmly and the interior decoration is so colourful and vibrant that no matter what the weather or what your current situation in life you are guaranteed to enjoy a quick boost in serotonin crossing the threshold.

Fourthly, it serves some seriously good cocktails (the rum-powered Havana Zombie at £4.95 is a must) which should ideally be drunk at lunchtime to make an afternoon in the office a more pleasant pursuit.

Fifthly, the service is on a par with Speedy Gonzales – especially important when you have only an hour free from the daily grind.

Sixthly...actually, the effects of the Zombie are now starting to wear off so let's slow down and return to point number two...

Lovers or natives of the central American country might quibble a little that the Mexican cuisine is not as robust or intense as back home – when is it ever? – but we thoroughly enjoyed our traditional grub which was served up off the lunchtime menu, itself a reduced version of the a la carte.

Skipping the starters, as we were already working through our budget on the cocktails, we plumped for mains of a High Noon Fajita Wrap (chicken – £4.95) and a Spicy Beef And Re-fried Bean Taco (£3.95) with a salad stuffed full of bacon, avocado, tortilla and pico de gallo (£4.95).

Boasting generous portions, the equally generous prices ensured we were already on the side of the chef before we had raised the fork to our beaks, but were then up to our necks in his debt thanks to the tender chicken, superb chef-made guacamole and lovingly prepared tacos full of spicy goodness.

And this was just a humble lunchtime. We reckon weekday evenings will be an even feistier affair (pepped up by happy-hour cocktails) while Fridays and Saturdays will bring the fiesta to north London.

So what are you waiting for? Arriba arriba!

● Opening hours: Mondays to Sundays, 11am to 11pm (apart from Fridays and Saturdays, 11am to midnight).

Social insecurity

The Social Network (12A)

Director: David Fincher
Starring: Jesse Eisenberg, Justin Timberlake, Andrew Garfield

HAS Facebook changed the way we communicate? Or just a repository for inane status updates and drunken photos?

Whatever your view of the website, one thing's for sure – its creation wasn't pretty.

Directed by David Fincher (Fight Club) and scripted by Aaron Sorkin (The West Wing) this is a sharp tale of innovation, ambition and betrayal.

But how do you make a movie about computing sexy?

It's not something that lends itself naturally to film but, in Fincher's hands, the computer programming scenes play out almost like action sequences, dragging the audience breathlessly behind.

But at its heart, this is a story filled with tempestuous human drama, fuelled by a potent cocktail of sex, drink, drugs and rock-star excess.

Documenting the excitement and giddy euphoria of Facebook's initial creation in squalid student dorms to its rise to slick corporate behemoth, the film's two-hour running time whizzes by.

And Facebook founder Mark Zuckerberg hardly comes out smelling of roses. It's not an unde-

Friend or foe: The backstabbing to create Facebook is compelling manding character assassination by any means – Sorkin's script paints a picture of a complex man who's not out for money, but a legacy.

Zuckerberg obsesses over social status yet, as one character remarks, "he barely has three friends to rub together". Though perhaps this is hardly surprising for a man who has the social skills of a serial killer – and loyalty to match.

Zuckerberg is portrayed by Jesse Eisenberg, who is absolutely compelling as a gifted yet somewhat broken young man. Bringing to life the turbulent social interactions surrounding Zuckerberg is a great supporting cast, including a surprisingly good Justin Timberlake (as Napster founder Sean Parker), who oozes seductive charm.

The Social Network is a slick, well-made drama with something to say. How close its depiction of Zuckerberg is to the real guy is up for debate, but in a way that is almost beside the point. He's the perfect cipher for a self-obsessed generation, where it's possible to be surrounded by "friends" but still be all alone.

To use Facebook relationship parlance: it's complicated.

Now Showing...

Mr Nice (18)

Mr Trick more like, as Howard Marks' best-selling autobiography is reduced to an indulgence only for fans of the notorious drug smuggler. Compatriot Rhys Ifans does a passable impression but we never really feel like rooting for Marks, while the plot wanders all over the place.

Made in Dagenham (15)

Falling somewhere between the energy of The Full Monty and the schmaltz of Calendar Girls, this is an enjoyable tale of the women who walked out of Ford's factory in the 1960s and ended up poster girls for equal rights.

Elizabeth Gilbert's one-woman voyage of self-discovery receives big-screen treatment in the form of Julia Roberts having a quiet breakdown. Far more sugary than the book, worth it for the feast of acting on display with Julia a joyful, feisty main dish.

Tamara Drewe (15)

Literature meets lechery in a Dorset village as Tamara (Gemma Arterton) causes havoc among the male population. A middle-class muckabout but the acting is in a class all of its own.

Person Centred Day Opportunities would like you to join us in celebrating the opening of our state of the art brand new centres

Friday 22nd October 2010 at 11.30am – 2.30pm

Refreshments will be provided.

Person Centred Day Opportunities is part of the Person Centred Care Homes group which has been established since 2001.

Person Centred Day Opportunities is an independent day care provider based in Enfield. We support individuals with Autistic Spectrum Disorders and/or complex behavioural needs.

A person centred approach is our way of working to ensure that our services really meet the needs and wants of the individual. Our person centred approach ensures that the individual remains the focus within a structured environment.

At Person Centred Day Opportunities our aim is to support individuals to lead inclusive lifestyles, live ordinary lives and participate in fulfilling activities. In achieving these aims the individual's potential, independence and dignity is always a prime consideration.

We provide a structured environment where each individual has a personalised programme of activities focusing on communication, behaviour management, physical exercise, independent living skills, social skills, therapeutic and recreational activities. Individual programmes are communicated daily during our morning meeting, this is done both verbally and pictorially for everyone.

Individual programmes build on the persons' strengths, capacities, preferences and interest. Independent living skills are promoted through our cooking session, where a small group is involved in the preparation of a healthy balanced meal for lunch. Physical exercise is promoted through our cycling, football and exercise session. Our in-house hydro pool enables individuals to experience a therapeutic water activity. These are just a few examples of the activities offered, other activities include, music, baking, art and craft, bowling, sports, shopping...

Our facilities include a luxury kitchen, dining area, TV area, art room, sports/music room, computer room, sensory room) and a hydro pool with tracking hoist and changing area. We also have an additional wet room with hoist access. The building is fully accessible. We have our own luxury minibuses, a car park, cinema room, gymnasium, jacuzzi and soft play room.

Our trained staff work closely with the individual, families, carers, psychologists, consultant psychiatrists and speech and language therapists to provide a safe and structured environment to reduce anxieties and build on independent living and social skills.

Once a referral has been made a pre-admission assessment is attached which will establish and identify the individual needs and abilities to ensure that the appropriate package is co-ordinated.

We are currently taking referrals for our new centres which opened in July 2010.

Person Centred Day Opportunities is ideally situated on the junction of Holtwhites Hill and Chase Side, approximately 10 minutes walking distance from Enfield Town Centre.

Crouch End, Hornsey, Tottenham & Wood Green

Kings Group opens 3rd Franchise Office!

Kings are delighted to announce the opening of their 3rd Franchised office in as many years. The new office based in South Woodford and close to the station, naturally complements the already established nearby offices in Chingford and Walthamstow.

Set up to do Sales and Lettings, this will see Kings make their mark on this vibrant and popular suburb, and the experienced staff are ready to offer Kings customary exemplary service to the community.

Steven Celimon, Franchisee and Owner of both the new office and Kings in Chingford, is delighted after many months of planning and preparation, he can finally open the doors!

"This is a great move for me as a Franchisee and someone who has worked with Kings for so many years, to tap into a new area, but one that offers such potential to me as a new business. Some people may think I am mad opening a new estate agency office in the current market, but fortune favours the brave!"

Karl Knipe, partner at Kings says, "This is a real testimony to the determination we have as a business and with our Franchisees, to make sure we continue to grow, whatever the economic conditions. We set up Kings in a recession in 1991, and are confident in our own destiny to make sure this and all our offices and businesses are successful. Steve has our full backing, but he has already established himself as leading Estate Agent in the short time he has been open in Chingford, and we have no doubt he can replicate that success in Woodford."

ATTENTION LANDLORDS!

BTC LETTINGS WILL MANAGE ALL YOUR PROPERTY HEADACHES FOR ONLY 5%

Wouldn't it be great if the only thing you had to do with letting your property was enjoy your monthly income?

- * Properties urgently required
- * 1-3 years guaranteed rent available
- * Tenants with full referencing and guarantors
- * Contracts with Australian - New Zealand teachers, Indian IT graduates
- * Property Inspection Report every three months

Rents we will achieve for your flat/house:

- ★ Studio £650 - £750;
- ★ 1 bed £750 - £800;
- ★ 2 bed £950 - £1050;
- ★ 3 bed £1200 - £1300;
- ★ 4 bed £1500 - £1700;
- ★ 5 bed £2000+

BTC Lettings market reviews:

- ★ With not many property owners wanting to sell in this market, there is an overspill of properties to let, here at BTC we have over 200 properties to let
 - ★ We are letting 1-3 properties a day - up to 50 a month, i.e. ONLY THE BEST SURVIVE!
 - ★ With hunting tenants having sooooo much choice, one thing is clear and very important. There is just too much competition, if you are thinking of letting your property, the condition/decoration will have to be of high standard, (laminated flooring would be a good tip!).
 - ★ Apart from poor condition, you may particularly struggle to find tenants if the property is above commercial property or in a high rise block.
 - ★ Landlords accepting tenants on housing benefit are achieving higher rent.
 - ★ Apart from gas safety certificate, all newly let properties must have an EPC certificate (Energy performance certificate).
- If you have any more questions/queries relating to letting your property or current letting market, please call us on 020 8889 7474

FORM NO ISSUE, SAYS CORLUKA

By Lee Husson

SPURS defender Vedran Corluکا has rejected claims that he is out of form, but is now determined to prove his worth at White Hart Lane.

The Croatian has been nearly an ever-present for Tottenham since joining the club from Manchester City two years ago.

But this season has seen the Croatian struggle for form, and he received some strong criticism following his display in Tottenham's 2-2 draw with Werder Bremen in the Champions League last month, where Harry Redknapp's side blew a two-goal lead.

But although Corluکا – away on international duty at present – admitted that his performance was poor in Bremen, he denied that he is going through a bad patch, and insisted that being dropped to the bench is not a major problem.

"I honestly do not feel like a player who is out of form," he told the Croatian media.

"It is true that I've watched from the bench in a few games but, my God, better players than me have sat there so I don't see why it would be the reason for any trauma.

"I was really bad against Werder Bremen. There is no justification for such a game.

"But, after three years of playing without rest, it's logical that there is a period when these things don't go the way you'd imagined. There is no drama.

"Just as I've enjoyed it before, I now have to accept the other side of the coin and win back my position."

Meanwhile the agent of Italian striker Vincenzo Iaquinta claims Tottenham are interested in bringing the Juventus frontman to N17 in January.

"I don't like to comment on rumours," Andrea D'Amico told Itasport. "I do know that Vincenzo is tracked by several clubs, including Tottenham, who have been interested in the player for a long time.

"Having said that, nobody has called me directly."

ANNE-MARIE SANDERSON

Unfazed: Spurs defender Vedran Corluکا says he is happy to fight for his place

Mbu named Skolars' new head coach

LONDON SKOLARS chairman Hector McNeil believes he has appointed the right man to take the club forward in Joe Mbu.

The new head coach replaces James Massara, who was axed at the end of last season, having been assistant coach last time around.

Born in Zaire, Mbu started his playing career at the Skolars as a youngster, before going on to make 101 Super League appearances for the London Broncos and the renamed Harlequins Rugby League – returning to the Skolars on a short-term loan deal in 2009 before retiring.

"We're delighted to appoint Joe," McNeil said. "It's great to see one of the first players to come through our junior development set-up in the head coach role.

"Joe has played at the top level of the domestic game, and his experience both as a player at Super League level and as assistant coach last season will be invaluable in developing the club.

"He will also be a brilliant role model for the youngsters in the area."

The Skolars showed signs of massive improvement under Massara towards the end of last season, ending a 30-game losing streak with victory over Rochdale Hornets before going on to finish the season with another win and several bonus points.

And McNeil hopes Mbu can continue the rate of improvement next season.

"We showed something of our potential towards the end of last season, but we now need to kick on and realise that potential," he added.
